Cerulean Arts is pleased to present Revelations in Isolation, featuring oil paintings by Ryan Muldowney. While residing in Northern Wyoming the past three years, the spare surroundings have provided inspiration for the work in this exhibition.

The small format, oil on paper paintings belie the vastness of the landscape depicted. Muldowney states “in the emptiness of my surroundings I have found great insight in the exploration of simple and equally spare visual ideas. I have discovered that there is very little that is absolutely necessary.” Stripped of any artifice, the paintings reveal the solitude and quietude of the landscape in a deeply felt way.

Muldowney earned a BFA in Illustration from The University of the Arts and an MFA in Painting from The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in 2008. A recipient of several grants and awards, he has shown his work in a number of mid-Atlantic exhibitions including at Villanova University and Delaware Center for Contemporary Art as well as at Sage Gallery in Wyoming. Muldowney currently resides in Wyoming where he is a drawing and painting instructor at Sheridan College.

Revelations in Isolation is on view April 6 – May 13, 2011 and is free and open to the public. The opening reception is Friday, April 8 from 5 - 9 pm. The artist will be available to answer questions about his work on Saturday, April 9, 1 - 4 pm with a gallery talk at 2 pm.
